

Secret Millionaire star offers free IT lessons

UNEMPLOYED people in Derbyshire are to be offered free IT training thanks to Derby entrepreneur Kavita Oberoi.

The businesswoman, who owns IT firm Oberoi Consulting, in Pride Park, said she wanted to put something back into the community.

She said she had experienced at first hand the difficulties faced by those living on benefits, after going undercover for the Channel 4 show The Secret Millionaire.

During filming she lived on the Ladywood area of Birmingham, which has one of the highest unemployment rates in the country, and lived off benefits of £8 a day.

She said: "I wanted to do what I could to help people who have found themselves out of work.

"My company specialises in IT so it made sense.

"Hopefully these courses will give people the skills they need to help them get back into employment."

The free IT courses are aimed at people who have little or no IT skill.

Anyone who is interested should e-mail admin@oberoi-consulting.com or write to Oberoi Consulting Ltd, 19 St. Christopher's Way, Patriot Way Business Park, Pride Park, Derby, DE24 8JY.
